COMPANY OVERVIEW

Vinculum Fidelis, LLC is a Service-Disabled Veteran-Owned firm that strengthens operational performance, security, and program execution for organizations operating in complex, high-risk environments. Led by Freddie Pope — a PMP-, CISM-, and Security+-certified operations leader with three decades supporting U.S. Department of State, Department of Defense, and USAF missions, including U.S. Embassy Baghdad and CENTCOM-AOR operations — the firm brings disciplined, mission-grade execution to government, prime-contractor, and enterprise clients.

CORE COMPETENCIES

- Operational performance improvement, execution discipline, and process redesign for complex organizations
- Program & project oversight for distributed teams, global logistics, and high-accountability service environments
- Security operations, risk mitigation, compliance alignment, and continuity planning in high-threat settings
- Leadership development, workforce readiness, and training-system design for high-pressure missions
- KPI development, governance systems, and reporting structures that strengthen accountability
- Federal & embassy support operations requiring coordination across government, prime, and multinational teams

DIFFERENTIATORS / PAST PERFORMANCE

- Directed multinational security operations at the U.S. Embassy in Baghdad; administered $10M+ security operations supporting Department of State missions in high-risk zones.
- Orchestrated logistics and planning for 50+ explosive-detection canine teams — 100% mission completion and $500K+ in annual cost savings.
- Reduced timeline variances 25%, improved deliverables 30% in six months, and cut forecast deviations 15% through structured execution controls.
- Improved safety and operational efficiency 35% within four months; achieved a 95% certification pass rate across 50+ handler teams.

DIFFERENTIATING VALUE

SDVOSB status (a set-aside and small-business-goal advantage for federal buyers and primes), combined with genuine mission-critical past performance and a certified program-management discipline. United by trust. Committed to excellence.
